About

I am a frontend developer with a passion for continuous growth and improving my skills to create high-quality and user-friendly products

My journey into development began with writing a small text-based game for Android, which made me realize that programming is what I want to do

With over three years of experience working with frontend frameworks (primarily React, but also with React Native, Vue, and Angular), I have gained skills in creating high-quality and responsive user interfaces. I have worked on a variety of projects, including corporate websites, admin panels, and mobile applications

Additionally, I have experience mentoring colleagues who are at the internship stage, and I am always ready to share my knowledge and experience. I believe that teaching others is a great way to improve my own skills and expand my understanding of the subject
